Studying Paul's Letter to the Philippians

Sunday, November 22, 2020

Philippians 1:21-25

Sermon in a Sentence: Even in the darkest moments of life a Christian can discover contentment; adjust your perspective.

Apply these two humble perspectives when you suffer, and God will promote your progress in the faith:

21-23 Confidence in the Gospel will enable you to tackle suffering with h_____ and e_____.

"Let me be food for the wild beasts, then I will truly be a disciple of Jesus Christ" Ignatius, first century Christian martyr.

According to v21 does Paul seem uncertain about what will happen to his soul at death?

24-25 Contentment in Christ will empower you to stop g_____ when you suffer and v_____ others above yourself.

Paul was content to set aside his personal ambitions and do what was best for the church.

Would you consider changing your perspective from what is better for you to what is necessary for others?
