Please go by the Missions Breezeway located between the Office Area and the Sunday School wing. David Peterson has put an ipad there for your viewing. Simply push the Play button and watch where God is at work around the world. Please see David for ways you can join God where He is already at work to get the Good News to spiritually lost people. Good News for All the People

Luke 2:1-20

December 22, 2024

Dr. Kelly B. Burton

Luke's Christmas story does not begin with a long genealogy. That is not Luke's aim. Luke contrasts the birth of John the Baptist in chapter 1, with the birth of Jesus in chapter 2. John's birth announcement is made in the majesty of the Temple. Jesus is born in Bethlehem, in simple clothes and laid in a feeding trough. God wants us to meet His promised Savior as One who identifies with all of us. God is concerned for people regardless of their social status or ethnicity. Don't be afraid to meet Jesus.

Sermon in a Sentence: God is concerned for people regardless of their social status or ethnicity. Don't be afraid to meet Jesus.

Appearances are Deceiving 2:1-7

Bethlehem? A stable? A Manger? Swaddling cloths?

In His providence, God is quietly at work.

If you can now see how God is working in your life, pause and thank Him.

Curiosity Leads to Seeking 2:8-20

The three-fold Office of Jesus:

A Savior

The Christ

The Lord

If you have found that this story created some curiosity, don't be afraid to meet Jesus.
